What does a good bookmark look like? Show us in our 2023 Bookmark Contest

By Tali Crowe

This is our official invitation to any and all local students in preschool through 12th grade to submit an entry for this year's contest. The winning designs from each age/grade category will be available as Tyson Library's official bookmarks for 2023.

Each design can be as colorful and creative as your child wants to make their design – we want the students to have fun and show us what they think of when it comes to books and the joy of reading.

Rules:

- Design MUST fit in a space 8 inches by 2 inches (like the box included on the printable form)
- Limit 1 drawing per person
- Designs can be hand or computer drawn in color or black & white using ink, crayon, paint, or other media. (Note: pencil drawings are often not reproducible, thus NOT accepted.)
- Submitted drawings must have the child's name, grade, and parent's signature (authorizing the library to use the winning drawing)

Theme: Designs should showcase the fun and adventure of reading, books, Tyson Library, or community/All Together Now

Important Dates:

- Monday, March 27 at 6 p.m. – Entries due in person to the front desk, via email to aly@tysonlibrary.org, or faxed to 812-750-8263

Can we read enough books to fill the office window?

This year the Tyson Library staff is taking on a new reading challenge as a team. We are aiming to add a post-it note to our office window for each book that we finish. The post-its will include the books' titles and authors.

In Progress: A Library of Things

By Tali Crowe

The staff at Tyson Library is working to build a Library of Things. A Library of Things is a collection of non-traditional items - things you wouldn't typically expect a library to offer its patrons.

Our Library of Things will offer special items that not only encourage reading and enjoying other activities together as a family, but also items that you may need just one time in your life - like that special cake pan for your child's themed birthday party.

We want our Library of Things to offer items individuals and families in our community would find useful but may not be able to or want to or need to make the financial investment in. As an example: a grandparent could checkout a sports kit when their grandkids come to visit for the weekend.

Watch our website and social media for more information about our Library of Things!

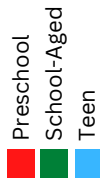

A Message from the Director

Is it really 2023?! I can't believe how fast 2022 flew past and it sure was a memorable one here at the Tyson Library. We had a variety of programs for patrons of all ages, which included our annual summer reading program (Oceans of Possibilities), our staff reading challenge "read to your height," and a popular adult class hosted by The Creperie from Madison. In 2023, the Tyson Library plans to have even more fun and engaging programs for all ages and we can't wait to see you!
