Welcome to our digital newsletter! Below you'll find library news, reading recommendations, program information and more.

Adventure Begins At Your Library This Summer

Summer programming is in full swing at Tyson Library! It's a great season to enjoy a program exploring one of this year's adventure-related topics. Miss Aly will host youth of all ages for programs about camping, nature, and more!

Adult programs include painting classes and a nutritious cooking class.

Each attendee can enter to win one of our awesome grand prizes for each program they participate in. Learn all about summer at Tyson Library by calling 812.689-5894 or by visiting tysonlibrary.org/summer-2

Above, Miss Aly and Miss Hailey work the temporary tattoo station at our Summer Kick Off Foam Party.

To the left, young members of our community enjoy playing and hiding in the bubbles on the library's front lawn.

BOOK REVIEW

Holly (Holly Gibney #3) by Stephen King

Reviewer: Tali Crowe, Tyson Library Staff

I finally decided to read a Stephen King novel. I waited for a long time because I associated his work with horror and gore, two adjectives I don't typically seek out in media of any kind. But, a good friend recommended this to me right as I was really itching to read some new fiction. This crime novel tells the story from a couple points of view. As the protagonist keeps finding connections between seemingly-unrelated disappearances, the reader is taken through more scenes revealing just how twisted the crimes truly are.
